

Increase Sales. Reduce Stock.

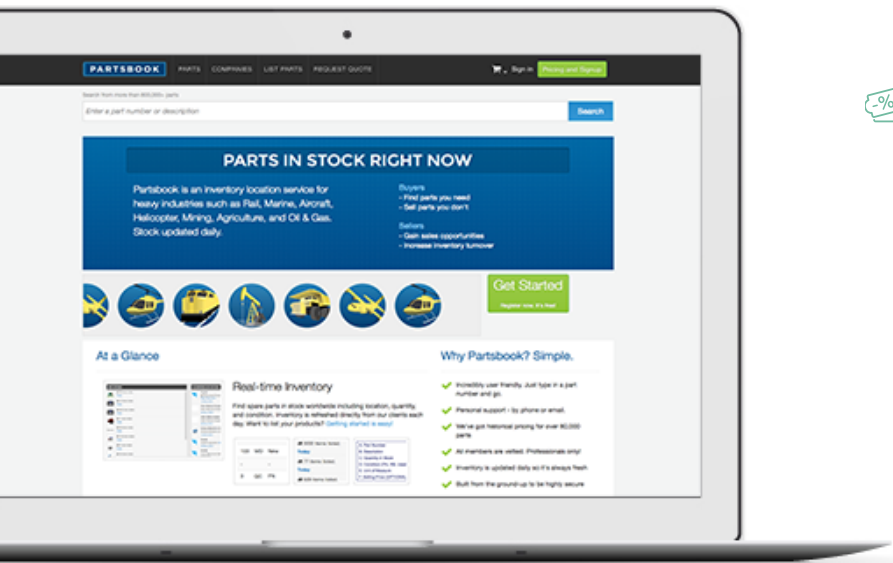

Inventory is complicated.

You never want to be short on stock. Customers want you to keep spares on hand in case they reorder, but often never do.

Sometimes you have a great manufacturing run and don't scrap as much as you anticipated, or you get discounts for ordering in bulk. Whatever the reason, overstock is a common problem; too many spare parts on-hand take up warehouse space and tie up valuable cash flow.

Partsbook is here to help.

This unique platform allows our constantly growing customer base to search through the inventory you have for sale. Setup is simple and the system keeps your inventory synced automatically. All this at no additional cost to you.

About Partsbook

Partsbook is an inventory location service for heavy industries, with over 950,000 parts for machines dedicated to Agriculture, Aeronautics, Mining, Rail, Oil & Gas, Maritime and more. Our Real Time Inventory Program is available to all partners regardless of their membership tier. And unlike most internal inventory systems, Partsbook is Cloud-based and available on any mobile device or table. All this at zero additional cost to you.
